

Our Naturland products

From Germany

Our hemp, rapeseed and sunflower seeds are from crops grown in Germany and pressed in our Oil Mill Lipos in Bremen.

Our partnership with Naturland

For around 15 years, certified organic products as per the EU Regulation on Organic Farming have been part of our product portfolio. In addition, we are certified according to Naturland standards. Naturland is “organic plus”: The standards go beyond the requirements of the EU Eco-Regulation, including for example social issues. Naturland is one of the largest organic associations in Germany and throughout the world. 140,000 farmers in almost 60 countries follow the association’s standards; 4,500 of them in Germany. Worldwide, they are mainly organized in smallholder cooperatives and producer associations.

Naturland’s international positioning goes well with the worldwide origin of our raw goods. Certification in accordance with Naturland standards means that end consumer containers can be labelled with the Naturland logo. The logo highlights the special commitment to people and the environment in the value chain.

We carry the following products in Naturland quality, most of which pressed in our Oil Mill Lipos. Please contact us for further information – we look forward to your inquiries.
