

Nutritional Ingredients

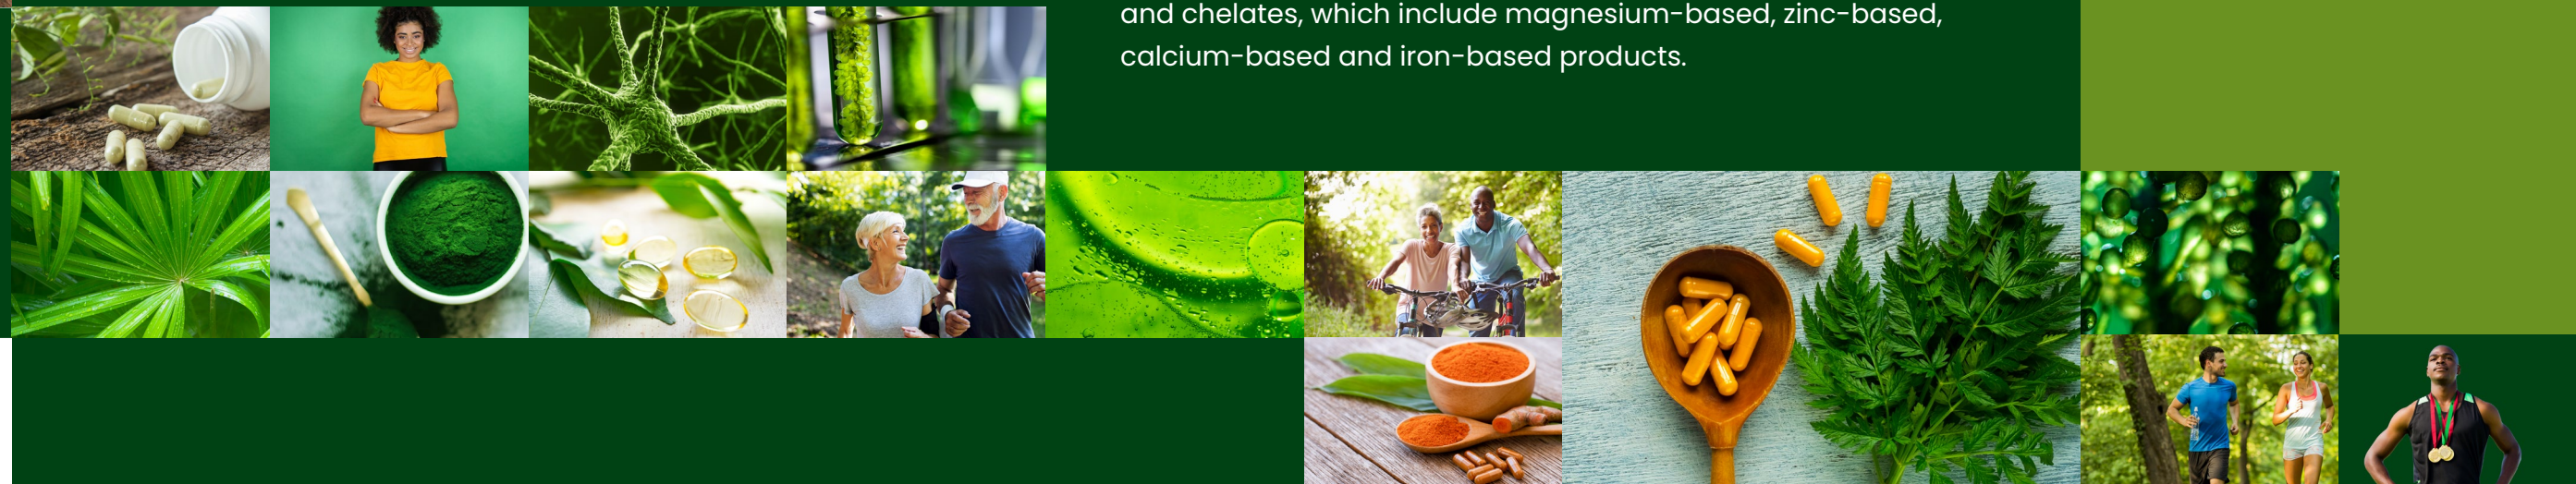

At Actylis, we understand our customers' needs for high-value products with better efficacy or natural, organic and clean label ingredients. Our strengths in manufacturing high-quality minerals, global sourcing of a large panel of ingredients and regulatory expertise make the difference and ensure consistent supply of hard-to-source innovative ingredients.

Manufacturer of Premium Minerals and Custom Blends

Actylis offer custom GMP manufacturing and blending capabilities of scientifically validated premium minerals and amino acid chelates, vitals for general health and well-being.

By combining 30 years of manufacturing and distribution to create mineral solutions, Actylis provides over 250 products, including mineral complexes, custom blends, fortified blends, and chelates, which include magnesium-based, zinc-based, calcium-based and iron-based products.

Your Partner of Choice for Global Sourcing

The nutrition industry is such a place, where product innovation, consumer demand and an ever shifting regulatory landscape combine to force even the most experienced insiders to reconsider 'business as usual'. At Actylis we are working consistently and tirelessly to understand the market present and future requirements by application so that we may meet those specific needs.

75 years of sourcing and distribution expertise has forged long-term relationships with high-quality, reliable suppliers worldwide allowing us to source a wide variety of difficult-to-find, critical ingredients.

While it may be cheaper to outsource production to the cheapest bidder, Actylis chooses to support local innovators in regional markets that provide differentiated products. The result is a transparent portfolio backed by proven local suppliers and products with demonstrable benefits supported by scientific data.
