Development

From concept idea to the final product

Profit from our flexible, modular service structure

Besides contract manufacturing, we also offer product development. We will support and advise you with concepts, product development and packaging solutions. Customer-specific requirements and optimal pharmaceutical forms are the center of the cooperation. We test and search for new raw materials for the formulations and for further processing in the desired pharmaceutical form.

Analytical Development

We analyze your list of raw materials or formulations and let you know within the shortest time whether we can turn your idea into reality like this or if there might be something to be improved: Thanks to our technological competence and close internal networking, we deliver practice-oriented solutions.

Selection Of Raw Materials

We already have the highest demands on our raw materials. That means: We only cooperate with certified producers at GMP Level and guarantee security of delivery by many providers. Of course, we can store the raw materials in our company if you like to.

Product Development

Specifications, documentation, new research results and constantly new regulatory demands. We disburden you from this long-standing way of product development at all stages: Starting from the selection of ingredients up to the formulation of the recipe. Starting from the optimal composition and mode of action up to the production of development batches.

Contract Manufacturing

We offer a variety of options for the production of your food supplements

We are specialized in the production of food supplements and dietary foods.

Starting with the mix of powders and granulated in the right ratios, via further processing to tablets, capsules or sticks, to the final packaging into cans, blister packs, displays or individually as bulk products. Following is an exemplary selection of possible primary and secondary packaging.

Blister

Blister packs are the ideal hygienic and user-friendly packaging for your capsules and tablets. We combine customised solutions with extensive production capacity, allowing us to supply blisters in virtually any size and shape fast and efficiently

Cans and jars

All pharmaceutical forms can also be filled into bulk containers like cans or jars. This is recommended for more environmental resistant products and are particularly suitable for frequent and multiple usage.

Sticks

Sticks are a very practical and consumer-friendly packaging. The powder or granulates are highly protected and already portioned, so it can be easily ingested by the consumer directly or by dissolving it in liquid.

Folding Boxes

Folding boxes as a secondary packaging are suitable for already packed products like blisters, cans, jars, sticks and other pharmaceutical forms. They are very inexpensive and can be printed as desired.

Filling

For tablets, capsules, coated tablets, liquids and special products of the highest quality.

We specialize in the production of nutritional supplements and dietetic foods

Dietary supplements can be offered in various dosage forms and are mostly used for specific products.

Sticks

Stick packaging is practical, user-friendly dosage form for direct consumption or ingestion in liquid. The individual portions filled with powder or granulate can be stored in a space-saving manner and are therefore an ideal solution for on the go. The printable outer cover, which is made of aluminum or laminating

Tablets

Tablets are the most common dosage form and they come in different versions. Effervescent tablets are often taken as a vitamin or mineral supplier due to their residue-free dissolution in liquid, mostly water. Because they dissolve in the mouth and thus at the taste receptors,

Capsules

Capsules are one of the most common forms of administration for dietary supplements, as they are tasteless and odorless and are easy to take. Hard capsules are the ideal dosage forms for powder and powder mixtures, as they dissolve quickly in the stomach and release the substances. Soft capsules are particularly suitable for liquid ingredients, some of which have unpleasant characteristics in terms of taste or smell, such as fish oil.

Oils and Liquids

The contract manufacturing of liquid products enables different filling options, which allow the consumer flexible dosage options when taking.

Contract Packaging and Assembly

100% Accuracy, trouble-free and highly efficient. For different types of containers and bottles.

We are specialized on the production of food supplements and dietary foods.

In the area of contract packaging, we support you in the processing of your nutritional supplements, food-, hygiene- and other non-pharma products. Required packing materials can be provided or procured by us. Therefore, we take over the encoding, labelling, banding and the final packaging according to your wishes if needed.

Blister Packaging and Cartoning

You have special requirements for your blister packages? Thanks to our blister and cartoning machines we can implement different types for you: Starting from the all-aluminum blisters, push-through blisters with mono-, duplex- or triplex films up to individual solutions. On request, we can produce child resistant films.

Appearance is all that count: Because of precise print mark control, we receive consistent blister images. We value high quality – in all areas of production. Our cardboard packages are accurately fold, glued and sealed.

Filling of Bottles and Containers

100% accurate, s.o. and highly efficient filling of different types of containers and bottles. That is possible because of our filling line for tablets, capsules, dragees, liquids, globules and more specialized products in the highest quality.
